CELEBRATING OUR ALUMNI

February 2011

Steven Bamberger '87 lives in San Francisco, California, and is the Chief Operating Officer of Netformx, a Silicon Valley software company in the communications and networking sector. He is responsible for global field operations which include sales, marketing and customer services. Prior to joining Netformx, Steven served as Vice President of North America Sales for Oracle Communications.

After graduating from Lake Ridge Academy, Steven continued his studies at Duke University, where he earned his bachelors degree in Computer Science.

Looking back, I realize that Lake Ridge Academy gave students amazing room to live up to their potential. My fondest memories are performing in and directing the school plays and musicals.

Steven played Mayer Rothschild in the 1987 Spring Musical The Rothschilds and served as the Student Director for The Diary of Anne Frank, which was the Fall Play in 1986.

Steven has truly enjoyed the travel associated with his job. Over the past decade, he has been fortunate to visit numerous countries through his extensive business travel. He has traveled from Australia to Brazil, India to Singapore, and Japan to China, where he climbed the Great Wall.

Amy Strauss Bondurant '87 is the Director of Human Resources at the Georgia Tech Research Institute in the applied research and development unit of the Georgia Institute of Technology. She leads the Human Resources team for Georgia Tech Research Institute's 1500 employees, providing guidance in recruiting, compensation, employee relations, performance management, compliance and benefits.

Amy attended Northwestern University, earning her undergraduate degree in Communication Studies with a minor in French. She continued her education at Vanderbilt University's School of Law, earning her J.D. in 1994.

Lake Ridge Academy remains a special place to me. I received an incredible education, made wonderful friends, and was able to experience unique events like the French Exchange Program, the eighth grade Quebec Trip and white water rafting in West Virginia.

Amy lives in Avondale Estates, Georgia, just outside the city of Atlanta, with her husband Miles and son Remy, who attends a school very similar to Lake Ridge. Amy continues to study French and Russian, enjoys working in her garden and watching movies in her backyard with friends and family.
